THE EXCURSION SEASON. Many Merry Picnic Parties Spend the Time

at Various Resorts. This is the season when the festive the 'simmon tree. Such a simile found a ready application in the thorains of all who linguished about the Chesapeake and Otto (Bread-street) station yesterday morning. People opened their eyes and took a second look. Then they mumbled to themselves, "Goodness, what a crowd!" Everything about the station was os the alert. Easkets and buckets, hig cakes of ice, any amount of lemons, and all the paraphernalia so dear to the picknicker's heart, left no doubt that the nine hundred individuals who went down to Providence Forge were off for a day of pleasure. the 'simmon tree. to Providence Forge were off for a day of pleasure.

The occasion was the joint picnic of the Christian Sunday schools of the city, and they did not forget to put in a day of genuine enjoyment at that famous resort, where so many courting couples have dreamed of visionary things and have laid some few plans for the future; where dancing people have glied over the floor to the inspiring strains of a waitz or a polka, and where the small boy has manufactured pin hooks for the avowed purpose of deceiving the unsuspecting perch or disturbing the peaceful reveries of the buil-frog.

The big crowd wandered about the woods, got themselves delightfully sunburned, and got on intimate terms with the troublesome chigre. Then they drank lemonade to their heart's content, masticated fried chicken by the wholesale, and paid their respects to cream puffs, lady fingers and the like. They returned to the city with many pleasant recollections of the trip.

And while all this was going on just about 250 excursionists were resping the benefits of the briny sea air at Old Point, and stroiling upon the sandy beach thereabout. The excursion was under the management of the Young Ladles' Society of the Second Presbyterian church. They left the station about 8:30 o'clock, and it was a merry party. A delightful day was spent at the Point, and the excursionists returned to the city last night much pleased with the trip.

The Centenary Methodist Sunday-School spent a most pleasant time at Warwick Park and lower James river yesterday. Quite a large crowd went down on the trip, and a typical outing was spent by the Sunday-school scholars. A moonlight excursion to the Masonic Home was given last evening by the Ladles' Auxiliary of that institution. At 130 o'clock a delightful musical entertainment was given, and those who attended spent a pleasant evening.

The first of the series of grand military excursions, under the auspices of the First Regiment, was given last night on the Pocahontas. Good music was one of the attractions of the trip, which proved a success in every particular. OFF FOR THE SEASHORE.

The Democratic Chairman

The new City Democratic Committee will meet for organization July 2d. The name of Captain Cunningham Hall, who has had long experience and proven himself a valuable man on the committee, is prominently mentioned as chairman.

Mr. Marion L. Dawson, who was elected to the committee from Clay ward, it is understood, is a candidate. His friends are at least using his name for the position. Captain Hall says he is not a candidate, but would not decline to serve his party if he is chosen by the committee.

A Sad Accident.

Yesterday afternoon about 6:45 a west-bound car electrocuted one of the bunnles from the Capitol Square, on Bank street near the corner of Tenth. This is one of the evils attendant upon the removal of the Capitol gates. If the gates had prevailed, provided they had been kept shut, this sad death would not have oc-curred.

The committee of the Seventh-Street Christian church yesterday ordered a $3,500 organ for that church. It is also intended to reupholster the seats and otherwise improve the interior finishing of the building.

THE S. S. CADOT CASE.

HE IS AGAIN IN COURT ON THE CHARGE OF EMBEZZLEMENT.

The President of the Live Oak Distillery Company on the Stand and Examined at Length_The Testimony.

The case of S. S. Cadot, charged with the embezzlement of certain funds of the Live Oak Distillery Company, came up again in the Hustings Court yesterday. The company claim that the accused, as agent for them, collected money from their customers and converted it to his own use.

Mr. Cadot was recently tried upon one of these indictments against him and acquitted by request of the Commonwealth's attorney.

The case has been postponed from time to time on account of a remarkable succession of sicknesses by the jurors and others connected with the tria, until yesterday, and though the matter has been in the court so long it still creates much interest. Creates much interest.

The indictment on which Mr. Cadot was arraigned yesterday was the charge of collecting $2.6 from the firm of Gonnella Brothers and converting it to his own use.

hella Brothers and converting is to own use.

Mr. Cadot was in court with his counsel, Mr. Charles V. Meredith.

Judge D. C. Richardson is assisting Colonel Spotswood with the prosecution.

The following compose the jury: D. Hardy Pyle, Joseph Myers, M. E. Condrey, Ellis Goode, J. Van Lew McCreary, J. C. Robertson, Joseph Strause, R. N. Henry, Richard Moore, T. J. Smith, Phil. August, and M. W. Gale.

The First WITNES.

THE FIRST WITNESS,

Mr. Schmidlapp, president of the company, was the first witness put on the stand.

To questions put to him by Commonwealth's Attorney Spotswood, Mr. Schmidlapp replied that he was president of the company, and that Mr. Cadot was employed by his company as traveling salesman. His salesman was paid 220 per month, and he was allowed $179 per month as traveling expenses.

His testimony was about the same as that given before, in substance it was that given before, in substance it was that diven before, in substance it was that Mr. Yost, secretary of the company, called him to the office of the company and showed him a memorandum of accounts that had been collected by Cadot, amounting to about $17,000.

When Cadot was asked what he intend-

When Cadot was asked what he intended to do about it, he repided that he would turn over his life insurance policies to the company for their benefit.

To that proposition Mr. Schmidlapp objected and told Cadot that he had betriended him once before, and that he could not expect him to do so again. When Cadot was accused by Mr. Schmidlapp with stealing his money and taking advantage of the change in the administration of the company tears came to his eyes.

To questions by Mr. Charles V. Meredith, counsel for Cadot, Mr. Scamid-lapp replied that the list shown him by Mr. Vost did not have a single name on it, only figures, and that he did not take the trouble to see if the accounts terday afterreen at 6 o'clock Miss Mary Alexander Woodfin and Mr. James Coieman Harwood were married in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends by the Rev. W. L. Wright, pastor of the church.

At the appointed hour, as the sweet notes of the Wedding March poured forth from the organ, the bridal party entered the church, attended by the bridesimal, Miss Alina Harwood, a sister of the groom; Messrs. Joseph M. T. Childrey, best man: Albert H. Hill, J. Garner Pollard, E. Henning Smith, Edward Woodfin, Harry George and Ellis French.

The altar was beautifully decorated with ferns, interlocking with flowers of many colors, the whole producing a picture of rare beauty.

The ceremony was performed in a most impressive manner by Rev. Mr. Wright. After the matrimonial knot had been tied Mr. and Mrs. Harwood were greeted by their friends with many congratulation and pleasant wishes for their future life. The bride wore a neat and tasteful gray traveling dress, and carried a large bunch of bride's roses. The bride has a charming manner that defines both grace and beauty, and has a host of friends. She is a daughter of Mr. S. E. Woodfin, of the Yarbrough Tobacco Company.

A NEW COMIC OPERA.

A pleasant surprise to many and the A pleasant surprise to many and the realization of bright anticipatery fore-knowledge to a few will be the production next week by the Strakesch Opera Company of a comic opera by Philander Johnson and J. Emory Shaw. Mr. Johnson is of the editorial staff of the Evening Star, and is well known here and to the readers of the weeklies as a writer of ciever society verse and bright song, as well the satirical paragrapher most quoted in the country. He has written also two or three well-received operettas before now. The present work is, nowas well the satirical participant most quoted in the country. He has written also two or three well-received operatias before now. The present work is, nowever, his most ambitious thus far. Mr. Shaw is much appreciated as a Washington musician, though he has for some time been living in Richmonds.

The Strakosch Company has the opera under active rehearsal, and the prospects are for a smooth and even production. The name of the new opera is "Vauir Brill; or. The Evil Eye." Washinston has frequently been the scene of dramatic first productions, but it is the first occasion in a long time in which professional production of comic opera was been made serv. After considering both libretto and music carefully Manager Strakosch had no hesitation in giving it a place for a west's production among the standard works which form the repertoire for the summer season. The idea is an odd one, combining the picturesque with a dash of the grotesque and just a sprinkle of satire. A description of the island of Marken, in the Zuyder Zee, Holland, first suggested the story. The well-to-do, but simple, people of the circumscribed dike-protected island preserve to-day the customs and traditions of centuries ago. The libration has it that two little ones of that place—a boy and a kirl-were betrothed by their parents to ceruent a family friendship. The boy's family goes to America and grows up as one of the members of New York society. His Dutch name, Derrick de Hoosh, which out-Knickerbockers the Knickerbockers themselves, and the wealth which his father accumulated, gives him ease and social position, but he is seen back to Hopeans.

That was left to the bookkeeper and to Mr. Yost. The memorandum of the accounts, as shown him, was made up by the bookkeeper. All the barreis of whisky received here and gauged by Mr. rhilip O Neil, div gauger, showed that the barreis were allowed any credits, but Cadot had to allow it to the customers.

Mr. Schmidapp admitted that if the memorandums produced in court were correct that Cadot ought to be allowed credits. A good many bills and receipts were introduced, and at a quarter to 2 the court adjourned until this morning at 9.29 o'clock.

FOR MEDICINAL USE NO FUSEL OIL

Nothing known to science at the pres-nt day has been such a healthful stimu-

and WOMEN and WOMEN as this great medicinal whiskey, which is the only pure whiskey upon the market. It is specially valuable this season of the year for counteracting had foods, impure water, malaria, and summer complaints.

It can be obtained of all reliable drugfists and grocers, and all persons should insist upon having DUFFY'S and not be persuaded to take any other. Send for illustrated pamphlet. DUFFY'S MALT WHISKEY CO., ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Solid Facts and Solid Sense.

The "Standard" has the biggest bobbin of any lock-stitch machine.
Holds 100 yards of cotton.
The first stitch perfect without holding ends of thread.
The tension is released when taking out the goods.
The finest goods are not drawn or puckered.
Lees noise than any other machine.
Runs 30 per cent. lighter than old-style machines.
The most expensive, beautiful, and practical set of attachments.
Bent wood work of the finest finish ever made.
Shortest needle used in lock-stitch machines, therefore less liable to bend and skip stitches.

Will wear twice as long as other lock-stitch machines.

Every part is independent of every other part, and can be replaced at a trifling cost. Therefore, you can keep a "Standard" Needle dips only once when making a stitch—old atyle shuttle machine is in operation. Old style shuttles start and stop twice to each stitch machines.
